“Too often in the past, we have heard extravagant claims for the benefits of different foods, but it is my opinion that, in quinoa, we truly have a plant that deserves the title of ‘super food’.... It has an important role to play in ensuring food security, boosting nutrition and, ultimately, eradicating poverty. It also brings attention to the importance that the United Nations attaches to indigenous knowledge and practice.”

Overall, Quinoa was disappointed in her Mad Men play date: not only did her guests overdo it on the apple juice, but the ad pitches they came up with were mediocre at best.
